Sheriff's Homicide Bureau detectives are continuing their investigation into the circumstances surrounding a deputy-involved hit shooting, which occurred last night near 123rd Street and Wilmington Avenue, Willowbrook.

Detectives have learned that when deputies attempted to make contact with a group of people, the suspect fled on foot. The deputies followed him, and the suspect turned to face the deputies armed with a handgun. The deputy, in fear for his safety, fired at the suspect striking him.

The suspect was transported to a local hospital where he was pronounced dead.

The suspect's handgun was recovered at the scene. No deputies were injured.

There is no further information available at this time.
